Hi Dana,

There is nothing more important than the health, safety, and education of our young people.

While it appears that there may be a strike on Monday affecting L.A. Unified schools, I remain steadfast in my belief that there is common ground between L.A. Unified and UTLA and that this common ground will be critical to a final agreement. But if the decision to strike is final, we've worked diligently over the last few weeks to ensure L.A. Unified families have the support they need and deserve.

The City will be offering extended hours, increased staffing, lunch, and programming at select recreation centers; expanded library programming; free transportation on Metro and LADOT for L.A. Unified students; and free admission to a number of museums.

In the meantime, I will keep engaging with both sides in hopes of reaching an agreement.
